
Gps Bu-353 Driver Windows 7 Download

I checked on my GPS navigator that it supports receiving satellites at an altitude of 30 km, but I did not find GPS satellites at an altitude of less than 30 km in this list. In fact, even a very large antenna, such as the Segger antenna, will not be able to receive a signal at such a height, and because of this, there may be a problem in obtaining positions from these satellites. I also checked the version of the GPS navigator. On the Tom GPS website, which lists GPS support at an altitude of less than 30 km, I found the version of the GPS navigator 2.9.
